Artist Statement

Like a puzzle piece, I always wonder where do I fit. Searching endlessly to find my place. The pieces of our life come together in so many forms. Sometimes with a direct path and sometimes with an unexpected journey. We constantly search for something that makes us feel whole. This body of work reflects the pieces coming together to represent the various sides of one's self. I have created these etchings and block print combining my love for printmaking and graphic design using collage, textures and simple color.
